Conference Hall, Library Building
1 Queen's Way, Kolkata – 700 071

The discussion will focus on the book Biplabi Bangla, Sonar Bangla, written originally in Marathi by Hemant Gokhale, former Justice of the Supreme Court of India. Translated into English and more recently into Bengali, the book contains two sets of ten articles each, all originally published in the distinguished Marathi periodical Sadhana. The book is a tribute to Bangladesh, from the days of the war of liberation (Biplabi Bangla) to the present (Sonar Bangla) and coincides with the Centenary celebration of the birth of Sheikh Mujibur Rahman, the architect of Bangladesh.

*Entry through East Gate (opposite St Paul's Cathedral) till the capacity is full;
entry / parking of vehicles not allowed within the VMH campus*
